MEMPHIS APPEAL.

"WATCHMAN! WHAT OF THE NIGHT?"

"Shall there to our night of sorrow
"Be no glad and bright to-morrow?
"Is hope, even, lost to DIXIE?
"Every dark night hath its morning,
"Long though, oft, delayed its dawning:—
Wait! be patient! pray for DIXIE!"

On the 29th of June the 'Legislature' of the negroized State of Louisiana convened in New Orleans, a city over which the castled flag of Spain, the lilied banner of France and the stars and stripes of the United States have floated in succession; in a State whose laws are derived from the Partidas of King Alfonso, the old laws and customs of France, and the law of England,—a State peopled with the generous and chivalric descendants of the Latin, the Saxon and Norman alike. The Senate was called to order by DUNN, a black negro, appointed Lieutenant Governor by General Buchanan; the House by R. S. Isabelle, a mulatto, temporary chairman. Over the State of brave men and lovely women, a State crowned with the starry glories nobly won in two great wars, the oleaginous African reigns supreme, sustained by Federal bayonets, and the clutch of the Federal hand on the throat of the State.

It is all well. South Carolina has a negro Secretary of State and a negro Legislature. The Devil's work is being well done; and, as usual, he is deluding his dupes, and will soon exact the penalty of the bond taken from them by him, when they secured his services, and for the time imagined him their servant.

In the olden times in England there was a Carnival of Unreason. There seems to be one now in the United States.

In North Carolina, "Gen. Canby suspends the test oath. He issues an order to Chief Justice Pearson to be qualified before the United States Commissioner, by taking the oath required by the new Constitution, and to administer the same oath to the other Judges and officers. He appoints Holden Governor, in the place of Worth, and orders the State officers to be sworn in."

In Louisiana, Gen. Buchanan, under instructions from Gen. Grant, "directs that the oath prescribed by the Constitution, and no other, will be required of members of the scalawag Legislature." The renegades and Iscariots who have forsworn the cause for which they were once so zealous, are excused from taking the test-oath required by the Reconstruction Acts. They are deemed worthy of the high honor of associating with those of whom the New York Herald speaks in these contemptuous words:

The miserable and dishonest "carpet-baggers"—five-eighths of them the foulest scum of hypocritical New England—who now claim to represent the Southern States in Congress, the Convention of Cooper Institute will utterly repudiate, denouncing their names as a moral emetic to the consciences of all decent men. They are not the representatives of States—not representatives of anything but theft and tyranny, ignorance, brutality and violence. They were elected by constituents not much more intelligent and far less virtuous than gorillas; while the true citizens of our own blood and race lay pinned to earth under the bayonets of a soldiery no longer discharging its proper function, but now compelled to act as jailers, torturers and tyrants over a people who fought us gallantly and who surrendered in good faith, confiding in the promised clemency of their conquerors.

By receiving into the Senate and House of Representatives the persons who claim the right to represent the reconstructed States there, the country has taken a longer downward leap, than Rome did in the first hundred years after Julius Cæsar was assassinated. Even before this determination of Congress, one would without being unjust have asked, as Sidney Smith did with respect to Parliament, "Is it possible for a gentleman to get into Congress, at present, without doing things he is utterly ashamed of?" Debased still further by the wretchedly unfit and incompetent men who are now flocking into the two Houses, from the Southern States, with commissions that are the fruit of force and fraud, men without the least right to pretend to be Statesmen, and many of them actually disreputable, base and low, of bad character and dishonest and indecent lives, Congress has become perhaps the shabbiest legislative body in the world, except the scalawag and negro legislatures of the Reconstructed States. There may be, among these new accessions, a few respectable and worthy men: but the large majority are of that class who are always purchaseable by power and ready instruments of corruption and supporters of jobs and all the dirty work of party. The Representative is rarely much above the level of his constituents; and when the intelligent and excellent men of any country are proscribed and disfranchised, and election to office depends on the votes of the ignorant and brutal, it is quite certain that the standard of qualification of public men must become continually lower. It is true that no more scurvy men are likely to be elected to Congress at any time, than are already about to infest it from some of the States; but in others there is perhaps a lower deep into which they may descend to rake up candidates out of the sewerage of the Commonwealth.

What hope of dawn do these evils and mischiefs, that must soon become intolerable to the whole country, hold out to the South? Taken in connection with the condition of the finances, the enormous taxation, and the shameless robbery of the people by every means that ingenuity can suggest, it is not possible that they should not soon awaken and arouse the people of the North, who certainly can have no interest to maintain mis-government, when to do so is only to gratify a barren and unprofitable revenge. If you go to Northern Ohio, you will find thousands of men who still hate and curse the people of the South, and say that they have not yet been punished enough. The lash of the scourge will soon rebound, and lacerate their own backs, and their yells and howls, instead of being as they are now, of hate and vengeance on those who are powerless to resist, will be of rage against those who have misled them to their ruin.

No crop that a country can raise is so unprofitable as the abuses that breed hatred which never die. If you wish to earn the undying hate of any man, do that unto him that will degrade him in the public estimation and his own esteem; and there is certainly nothing by which that can be so surely effected, in the case of an Anglo-Saxon, Celtic or Teutonic freeman, as making the negro his political and social equal. The New York Tribune speaks of "the atheistic if not fiendish assertion of a natural, unconquerable antipathy between the Caucasian and the African races;" but this is mere rigmarole. The antipathy exists, and always will exist. It is the "irrepressible conflict," between races that cannot exist except as superior and inferior: and the attempt to make them equal will arouse the bitterest hate in the bosom of every white man whom it is attempted to subject to this intolerable degradation.

If the people of the North do not soon become disgusted and flame with a just indignation at the state of things in the South,—if they are willing to continue to be responsible for military despotism and the investiture of negroes with offices once honorable, and the certainty of the presence of negroes as members of the two Houses of Congress, it will be useless for us to continue the struggle. A people that can deliberately approve of and sustain such measures is not fit to be free, and the government of a tyrant is precisely what it needs and deserves. Radicalism cannot halt. Like one who has sold his soul to the devil, it must go on from crime to crime, each new crime contributing more efficiently to the certainty of its downfall.

QUESTIONS FOR CASUISTS.

Every white man is disfranchised in Arkansas, by the Constitution lately littered there, who will not swear that he will never endeavor to deprive negroes of the right of voting.

A correspondent in that State asks us these questions:

"Suppose a man takes that oath, and in November votes for the nominee of the New York Convention, and that nominee should be opposed to manhood suffrage (not very probable), or suppose he takes the oath, and thereby becomes an elector, and in November votes for some persons, for President and Vice President, who, themselves, are not opposed to manhood suffrage, but think that the matter of franchise should and does belong to the States, and at the next general election, the elector, thus qualified, and thus having voted, should through design, or unknowingly vote for members of the Legislature, who had changed their views in relation to manhood suffrage, and who should exert themselves to abridge it, and reduce it down to intelligence and intellect, would an act of that sort make the electors guilty of perjury?

We can only answer that to vote for a person to be member of the Legislature, knowing him to be opposed to negro suffrage, and expecting him to exert himself as Legislator to take the right of voting away from the negroes, would be a violation of the oath. So it would be to vote for a person for President, pledged or expected to do all he constitutionally could to rid the South of that pest. In that, as in other matters, what it is not lawful for one himself to do, it is not lawful for him to procure others to do.

No man should take any oath, intending not to keep it. That it is unlawful to require it, makes, in our opinion, no difference. To escape death, torture or imprisonment, one might be justified or at least excused, for taking such an oath, meaning to break it, as taken under duress. No less urgent necessity could excuse him. Better be disfranchised forever, than buy the privilege of voting with a false oath, an oath not meant to be kept, or a lie.

FLORIDA.

—The schooner Fancy has arrived at Pensacola from Rustan Island, with an assorted cargo of fruits, snakes, etc.

—A book of private correspondence, belonging to Hon. Mrs. Yelverton, has lately mysteriously disappeared from her room in the Magnolia House, St. Augustine. If the book will return to the care of Col. Sprague, the owner will be greatly obliged.

—Says the East Florida Banner: "An election was held in Apalachicola on the 28th of June to ascertain the sense of the people as to whether or not the city should subscribe not exceeding three hundred thousand dollars for the purpose of extending the railroad from Quincy to that city, which resulted as follows: For subscription, 115; against, 17."

—The Southern Messenger of June 26th says: Since our last issue we have been blessed with several refreshing showers. A few days more of dry weather would have been fatal to almost the entire corn crop of Madison county; as it is, this crop will be materially cut off. Cotton, as a general thing, looks well, and if none of the numerous accidents to which it is liable befals it, we may expect a fair yield the present season.

—The Commercial Index says: between six and seven thousand packages of merchandise passed through Fernandina last week, and the prospects are good for an average of at least three thousand per week during the dull summer months, which is certainly encouraging to the Fernandinians.

—The East Florida Banner has come down to a half sheet. The editor says in his last issue: "Circumstances beyond our forecast or control have forced us to a half sheet. But 'half a loaf is better than no bread.' Such as we have, therefore, we furnish our patrons, and while our conscience, and we trust our patrons also, acquit us of any 'high crime or misdemeanor,' yet we must own up to a short coming, and while we thus plead innocence and a frank confession, we look for a smile and renewal of subscription from our former friends, and increased patronage."

—Matilda Heron has died a thousand times as "Camille."

—A talking machine is exhibited at Pesth, Hungary. Grant's friends should send for one.

—The strap-leafed turnips are raised at very small cost by sowing among corn at the last cultivating, say the first week in August. If the corn is cut up by the roots, say early in September, the turnips have the ground the rest of the season, and frequently make, on good soil, 400 to 500 bushels per acre.

—Dr. Ed Donoho, of Lebanon, fell into an apoplectic fit on Thursday morning last, which was followed in a few hours by paralysis and loss of consciousness. He expired the next evening between 9 and 10 p.m. His age was forty-two. He was a prominent physician and high-toned gentleman. His untimely death will be deplored by a large circle of friends.

From the N. O. Picayune.]

LITTLE LAMPS AND LITTLE FOLKS.

BY PEARL RIVERS.

At the door of his leafy palace
A Fire-fly one night
Stood trimming his little lantern,
And watching the stars so bright.

"What large, splendid lamps they carry,
While mine is so small and dim;
What good does it do, I wonder,
And why was it lit by Him?"

I polish it every morning,
And I trim it every night,
But 'tis scarcely worth the trouble,
It gives such a feeble light.

And he turned to the Fire-fly lady
With a buzz of discontent,
She paused in her household duties
To list to the sad lament.

"My lamp," said the bright little lady,
"Is dimmer than yours, but I
Ne'er wish for the flaming lanterns
That shine in the far off sky."

"It is bright enough for my using,
For it lights up our little home;
And it cheers you to see it shining
When far in the dark you roam."

Just then on the leaf-roof slanting
A large, heavy drop of rain
Fell, rocking the little palace,
Till 'twas almost rent in twain.

They peeped through the open window,
All the star-lamps had gone out,
And the wind, with its wide wings open,
Was fanning the clouds about.

"Our neighbors, the Ant and Beetle,
Passed late by our door to-day
To glean in the grassy meadow,
I am sure they have lost the way.

"I must hasten to guide them safely:
At the window, love, remain,"
Said the lord of the little palace,
To light me home back again.

When trimming his lantern quickly,
He covered it close with his wing,
And flew through the rain and darkness,
Borne up by the All-Seeing.

He flew to the North, and flew to the South,
And flew to the East and West,
Till he found the poor blind beetle
Enamored in a spider's nest.

And the weak little ant wee swimming
Half-drowned through a drop of rain;
But he stood on the nearest landing,
And lighted him o'er the main.

Then flashing his lantern brightly,
He guided them on their way,
Till he came to the kingdom of beetles,
And the village of ants that lay

Two steps from the Fire-fly city;
Then bidding them both adieu,
Straight home to the lifted window—
To his lady-love he flew.

THE CROPS.

—In this neighborhood the late rains have improved the cotton and corn very much, and will add fully one-half to our prospects for a good yield of the latter.

—The farmers in Terrell county, Ga., despair of making anything like half a corn crop. The drouth in many portions of the county has lasted seven weeks. Cotton is small but looking well in some portions of the county. The fruit is falling off rapidly and is a complete failure.

—The Cuthbert (Ga.) Appeal says that the drouth is again becoming severe, and the corn crop is nearly ruined. This is particularly the case about Brookville, and we learn that nearly all of Stewart county has suffered terribly.

—The crops near Columbus, Ga., are suffering for rain. A great deal of the growing corn is now too far advanced to be much benefitted, but the later corn as well as the cotton would be greatly helped by it.

—The Atlanta (Ga.) Intelligencer says: Two attempts at rain, one on Sunday the other yesterday, proved only miserable failures. We had a little wind, a great deal of thunder and lightning and a few drops of water only. Everything parched, but copious showers, we understand, have fallen in several places in the surrounding country. We earnestly speak for the next chance.

—A letter from Warnersville, Ga., says: The wheat crop in this section has not turned out as well as expected, on account of the rust. I think, however, there was a good yield wherever the land was good, and doubtless enough has been raised for home consumption. I trust this has been so to the full extent. The cotton on superior land is appearing well, but the corn is beginning to droop for the want of rain, none of which worth naming have we had for five weeks. There has been some in other sections not far from this. The garden vegetables are perishing.

—The Rome (Ga.) Courier says: There have been rains in some localities, but as a general thing the crops are suffering for rain greatly in this section. Unless we have rain soon, the corn crop will be materially injured.

—A note from a planter in the Canebrake country in Alabama to the Selma Times says: Corn is literally burnt up. Not more than half a crop can be made; and unless we get rain soon, early corn will make nothing. Cotton is growing slowly; but it is suffering for rain. Planters are holding on to their old corn, asserting that they will not make enough this year to carry them through another season.

FOR PRESIDENT,

HORATIO SEYMOUR,

OF NEW YORK.

FOR VICE-PRESIDENT,

FRANK P. BLAIR,

OF MISSOURI.

NEW YORK CORRESPONDENCE.

NEW YORK, July 5, 1868.

It must be very dull upon your streets—more so than during the early part of this unusually dull season—judging by the number of Memphians to be met with in every part of this great city. I have had the number now here variously computed to me, and have little doubt there is fully four to five hundred. In proportion to our means and population our State, too, is as well represented as any in the Union. In the hall of the St. Nicholas Hotel one may, at any time up to 11 p.m., meet twenty or more Tennesseans. Indeed one of our Convention delegates assured me he counted more than one hundred and forty there within an hour on the morning of the 4th. From this you will readily discover that our delegation is well supported. We have many leading lawyers, as well as politicians and gallant Generals, and officers of other grades of the late Confederate States army—men of mark—among them our own Forrest and Gen. Chalmers, Gen. Bate and Gen. Quarles, of Middle Tennessee, and Gen. Campbell, of Jackson. Among the lawyers of Memphis who are exerting their influence to shape the action of the Convention, I can name Major Beecher, Col. Wm. Avery, Judge Swayne, Judge W. T. Brown, Mr. Newt. Hart, Mr. Hinson and Judge Thomas R. Smith. Dr. Mitchell and Dr. White may be added to the professionals present. Our city government, too, is well represented in the persons of the Mayor and Aldermen McDavitt and Passmore. These with a number of our most active business men, comprise a representation of which Memphis may well be proud.

OUR DELEGATION.

I have made the acquaintance of nearly all our delegation to the Convention; have met them in the committee-room, and socially, and at the Convention. On the 4th had an opportunity of comparing them physically and intellectually with those of the other States, and, I think, without any disadvantage to them. They are the equals, in every respect, of those surrounding them, and in cool discrimination and sagacity, as well as appreciation of the work before the Convention, surpass many from other States who occupy prominent positions in the great Democratic gathering. Prominent among them, Gen. Forrest has as much distinguished himself in the Convention as on the battle-field for coolness, daring and courage. A shrewd adviser, he has made his mark for political sagacity, and I doubt not, when relieved of his political disabilities, will be prominent among our leading men for political preferment.

Gen. Bate, too, has signalized his presence here as a delegate, by a conciliatory deportment and tact in managing whatever work has been committed to him. He is earnest and constant in the duties of his position, and is looked up to by his fellow-citizens as a safe guide. Hon. Thos. A. R. Nelson, Chairman of the Delegation, and Hon. Ed. Cooper, with Dr. Leftwich, are also among the leading members of the Convention. Well known by reason of late events in which they have taken an active part, it will not be necessary for your correspondent to particularize their powers and capacity for positions they fill to the full measure of the expectancy of their several constituencies.

Hon. John F. House, former member of the Confederate Congress, is active as a delegate. Well up in the affairs of the day, and thoroughly in earnest in the work before him, he has proven himself possessed of a high degree of discrimination and judgment, and is considered among the first on the list of delegates.

Hon. A. O. P. Nicholson, colleague of General Forrest, as delegate for the State at large, former Senator in the United States Congress and colleague of President Johnson, has been well received by his old friends of the Democratic party. Noted of old for discernment, good judgment and faithfulness to principle, his presence as a delegate is regarded by politicians from other States as an evidence that Tennessee is alive to the importance of the struggle about to be initiated by a discreet nomination for the Presidency.

Another of our time-honored Democrats I mention most favorably—Gen. Conner, of Lauderdale county. He has impressed all with whom his duties as a delegate have brought him in contact, as a safe, shrewd, practical man, having but one interest to subserve, and that the good, safety and welfare of his constituency. A plodding worker, having the advantage of experience in two other National Conventions, he is not the least among the safe advisers in the present Convention.

Gen. Campbell, of Jackson, a former distinguished soldier in Jackson's division of cavalry, is making many friends by his quiet earnestness of manner and the promptness with which he responds to all demands upon his time. He signalizes his entree into political life by most commendatory qualities of head and heart.

Mr. Dorsey Thomas is also one of the able delegates from our State. He will be remembered by our readers as the gentleman so unfairly ousted to give a seat in the House of Representatives to the Radical Arnell. Mr. Thomas is a gentleman of sound judgment and much observation in political affairs, and is a useful as well as able member of the delegation. He is popular with his constituency, and well he may be since he represents them so worthily and well.

Space fails me. I cannot as I desire continue and sketch the remaining members of our delegation. Suffice it that they are worthy colleagues of the distinguished gentlemen whose merits I have faintly traced.

THE PRESS.

The press of our State is well and respectably represented by Capt. Mathes, of the Avalanche, Mr. Heis, of the Banner, Mr. Sullivan, of the Nashville Gazette, and Mr. Ramage, of Knoxville.

LIST OF PROMINENT MEMPHIANS.

The following is a partial list of prominent business men of our city now sojourning here: Sam Tate, W. B. Miller, Jesse W. Page, Sr., Thomas B. Norment, John B. Hill, Maj. Partee, H. B. Joiner, D. Cockrell, Dr. J. R. Christian, Hugh Greer, J. J. Worsham, Mr. Wells (of the well known firm of Wells & Coll), H. T. Tomlinson, Rob Topp, Capt. Archer, Mr. Holst, Jesse W. Page, Jr. The weather is intensely hot, much interfering with the enjoyment of visitors.

GENERAL ITEMS.

—Charlotte Cushman arrived on the Scotia on Tuesday.

—Lucille Western is drawing well in San Francisco.

—Smoking pipes of the Roman age have been exhumed in Scotland, and are exciting the curiosity of the antiquarians.

—A heavy business is done in Paris in Chinese queues for ladies' chignons. The price is two francs and a half per tail.

—A few days ago a number of negro laborers in Wilmington, N. C., who had been receiving $2 25 struck for $3, which was refused, and white men employed in their stead.

—The test oath in the South: "D—mn the carpet-baggers."

—A delegate at a late Radical Convention wanted the vote of his township to "cast a eunuch."

—A sporting man being solicited to insure his life replied: "He'd be d—d if he'd play any game where he had to die to win."

—One suit of rooms in a Saratoga hotel has been rented for the summer at $300 a week.

—Torrill A. Crenshaw, a young merchant of good character and standing, committed suicide in Athens, Ga., a few days ago by shooting himself through the temple with a pistol. No cause for the rash deed is known.

—W. B. Turner, Jr., of Kosciusko, Miss., formerly publisher of the Goodman Star, was treacherously murdered a few days ago, by one Samuel Sanders. Sanders escaped.

—Chas. Seller, of Williamsburg, N. Y., was accidentally shot by a friend named Stephenson, on Saturday evening, killing him instantly, and seeing what he had done, ran to the foot of Grand street and drowned himself.

—John Coole, who killed two step sons named Quayle, at Warrensville, Ohio, June 27th, cut his throat Tuesday night in his cell with a razor borrowed from a fellow prisoner. Coole's companion in the cell was awakened by the blood dripping on his face. He found Coole dead. His trial was to have commenced on Wednesday.

—Peter Cagger, the eminent Democratic politician, who for many years possessed greater influence in the State of New York than any other private citizen, save perhaps Dean Richmond, was killed Monday night. In company with his friend John E. Develin, he was driving through the Central Park, intending to attend a reception of the Manhattan Club. As they were turning a short curve a wheel gave way and the carriage was capsized. Messrs. Cagger and Develin were dragged several rods beneath the wreck. The former was instantly killed, and Mr. Develin was so severely injured that it is not thought probable he will recover.

—Three persons, named Wm. Wood, Tom Hughes and Wm. Leonard, were drowned at different places near Cincinnati last Saturday.

—C. G. Baylor, the same fellow Joe Brown sent to Europe during the war, has turned up in New York as Secretary of an association of Southerners "who uphold Impartial Suffrage." He is a great rascal.

—A powder mill in Scitico, Connecticut, belonging to the Hazardville Powder Company, exploded on Tuesday morning, burning the only two persons in the mill in a shocking manner, and so that their lives are despaired of. Michael Bailey, a workman for many years, and Francis Richardson, Superintendent of the Scitico Department, are the sufferers. It is but three weeks since a mill on the same site was blown up in the night, with no one near.

—President Johnson and Mrs. Stover and family have arrived at Greenville to spend the summer.

—The Cincinnati papers mention the arrest of Dr. Fornden, the agent of the Cherokee and Choctaw ball players, who recently visited this city. A man named Lennox was also arrested. After giving successful exhibitions in Cincinnati and Dayton, it is alleged that the manager pocketed the funds and left the red men to take care of themselves. They went to Cincinnati, and an agent was sent out by the Government, who caused the arrest of the parties named.

—The proceedings of Congress Friday were not important. The Senate made the Tax and Funding Bills the special order for to-day. The resolution, excluding rebel States from the Electoral College, was postponed. Mr. Butler submitted to the House his report of the impeachment investigation; and Thad. Stevens, in discussing the proposed extra allowance to Department clerks, found an opportunity to refer to Mr. Greeley as "an old scare-crow from New York."

—A dreadful hail storm has lately occurred in Texas. Great injury was done to the crops, and the roads were blocked up for miles with fallen timber blown down by the tornado. Whole farms of twenty acres were demolished, and some of the planters were moving off. Hail stones fell weighing five pounds.

NASHVILLE.

NASHVILLE, July 9.—The Nashville and Northwestern railroad matters are not yet settled, but is in fair trim for it. Cliffe, Receiver of the Memphis and Louisville railroad is to succeed Receiver Ignes by appointment of Gov. Brownlow.

Gen. Roger Swayne has assumed command of the District of Tennessee, headquarters in this city.

Immediately on the announcement of the nomination of Seymour the Banner hung out the stars and stripes, and called into requisition a band of music, which played the national airs. A large crowd gathered. A stand was improvised and stirring speeches were made by Neill S. Brown, Henry S. Foote and others. The greatest enthusiasm prevailed, and the nomination was hailed by the Democracy as the harbinger of victory. The rejoicing was kept up till late at night.

PENNSYLVANIA.

ERIE, July 9.—A bridge over French river on the Philadelphia and Erie Railroad, broke last evening and two passenger cars went through, killing five persons and injuring five severely and twelve slightly.

NATIONAL DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.

Seymour and Blair the Nominees.

Fifth and Last Day's Proceedings.

NEW YORK, July 9, 12:20 p.m.—The Convention met at 10 o'clock.

A Missouri delegate rose to a privileged question, and complained that the order of the Convention inviting the soldiers and sailors to seats in the hall, had not been properly executed, and asked that the Sergeant-at-Arms be instructed to execute it. There were great complaints that many were refused admission.

The Secretary stated that tickets had been issued to soldiers and sailors, who were admitted to the extent of the capacity of the hall.

Broadhead, of Missouri, rose to nominate F. P. Blair, as candidate before the Convention for President. He said that Blair had the firmness of purpose, great courage, and indomitable will, which were especially required at this time; that he would give a living meaning to the pledge to preserve and defend the Constitution, and assert and maintain the independence of the Executive; that he knew the duties of the Executive station, and will dare maintain them. He nominated Blair in behalf of the Missouri delegation.

Miller, of Pennsylvania, rose and complained of the violation, by Tilden, of yesterday's rules of the Convention, in making remarks in announcing the change of the vote of that State. His remarks were excited and in bad temper.

In referring incidentally to the name of Chase the galleries broke out in great cheering. When the chair announced the business in order to be the 19th ballot, a delegate from California in a few remarks announced Judge Stephen Field, of that State, as a candidate for the Presidency, whom he eulogized as a guardian of the Constitution of the country against the assaults of the Radicals at Washington. [Subdued cheers.]

Vallandigham said he had a communication in writing which, with leave of the Chair, he would read from the stand. [His appearance on the platform was greeted with moderate cheers.] He read the letter, which was from Pendleton, dated Cincinnati, July 3d, and addressed to McLean, of the Ohio delegation, authorizing the withdrawal of his name whenever it should seem desirable. He deemed the success of the party more important than the gratification of a personal ambition. If at any time a man could be presented that is likely to more heartily unite the party than his (Pendleton's), let his name be withdrawn.

Vallandigham said it was the desire of Mr. McLean to present this letter early yesterday morning, but the Ohio delegation thought it was best to keep his name before the Convention throughout yesterday. He then commended the magnanimity and unselfish patriotism of this letter, and finally withdrew Pendleton's name, with thanks to those who had supported him with such fidelity. [Great cheering.]

NINETEENTH BALLOT.

Hancock, 135½; English, 6; Packer, 22; Doolittle, 12; Hendricks, 107½; Blair, 13½; Field, 15; Chase, ½; Seymour, 4.

The roll was called on the twentieth ballot. Arkansas broke from Hancock and gave Hendricks four of her five votes. Massachusetts asked time, and it was granted. It is rumored she will go for Chase. New Jersey voted seven for Hendricks. New York adhered to Hendricks. Ohio asked time, and it was granted. Great excitement and intense interest. Pennsylvania adhered to Hancock. Kentucky gave Hendricks five and Hancock five and a half. Massachusetts asked and obtained leave to retire for fifteen minutes. Ohio gave English ten and Hancock eleven, and then obtained leave to retire for consultation.

The Chair announced a general recess for fifteen minutes.

During the recess, John Morrissey offered bets that English would be the nominee.

The canvas was active all over the hall, each delegation reviewing the field and discussing the chances of different candidates, and determining how they would vote on the next ballot. The Convention was called to order again.

TWENTIETH BALLOT.

English, 16; Hancock, 142½; Doolittle, 12; Hendricks, 121; Blair, 13; Field, 9; Seymour, 2.

TWENTY-FIRST BALLOT.

Kentucky and Massachusetts again asked time, and were granted. Missouri abandoned Blair and gave Hancock 9; Hendricks, 4. North Carolina gave Hendricks 1. Pennsylvania 26 for Hancock. Tennessee split again, giving Johnson 5; Hancock, 2½; McClellan, ½. [Cheers in gallery.]

Seymour resumed the chair. Massachusetts gave 4 for Chase. [Great, prolonged and repeated cheering in the galleries, and hisses on the floor.] Result announced: English, 19; Hancock, 135; Johnson, 5; Doolittle, 12; Hendricks, 132; Field, 8; Chase, 4; McClellan, ½; Hoffman, ½. The vote for Chase was again hissed, which was responded to by overwhelming cheers.

On the twenty-second ballot Alabama voted solid for Hendricks; Minnesota gave Hendricks her 4; Missouri gave Hendricks her vote; Nevada gave him 3; New York adhered to him; North Carolina gave him her 9. [Great cheers.] When Ohio was called, McCook, by unanimous direction of his delegation, and with the assent and approval of every public man in that State, including Pendleton, to put in nomination, against his inclination, but no longer against his honor, the name of Hon. Horatio Seymour. Let us vote for a man whom the Presidency has sought, and who has not sought the Presidency. This, he believed, would drive from power the Radical cabal at Washington. He believed this nomination would command the unanimous approval of the Democratic and Conservative men of all sections, and he asked on behalf of the country that Seymour should yield to this wish of the Convention. [Great excitement and applause, delegates rising and cheering.]

McCook cast 21 votes for Horatio Seymour. [Renewed cheering.]

Seymour rose and said the motion first made excited most mingled emotions. He had no language in which to thank the Convention, and to express his regret that his name had been presented, but in a question affecting his duty and honor, he must stand by his opinion against the world. He could not be nominated without putting himself and the Democratic party in peril. When he declined the nomination he meant it. He paid an eloquent tribute to Pendleton and his magnanimity. In conclusion he said, thanking the Convention, your candidate I cannot be.

Vallandigham said in times of great exigency and calamity every personal consideration should be overlooked. He insisted that Horatio Seymour must yield to the demonstration in his behalf. Ohio must and should stand for Horatio Seymour, and he called upon the several delegations to follow that lead.

Kilman, of New York, in behalf of her delegation: They had no part or lot in this movement of Ohio. They had heard something of it, but had declined taking part in it, out of regard for the proper sensitiveness of the President of the Convention, until other States should show by their action that Seymour was demanded by the party. He urged it as a necessity of success, and expressed his opinion that Seymour could accept the judgment of the Convention with honor, and that he should yield, as a matter of duty, to its wishes. With him as a candidate New York was good for 100,000 majority.

A call of the roll was then moved, with the following result:

Tennessee gave Seymour 10; when Wisconsin was called Palmer seconded the State of Ohio and cast 8 votes for Horatio Seymour. [Great cheering.] Kentucky gave Seymour her 11 votes. [Great cheering.] Massachusetts gave 12 for Horatio Seymour. North Carolina changed her vote from Hendricks to Seymour. [Cheers.] Pennsylvania asked that her vote be not recorded for the present. Mississippi changed from Hancock to Horatio Seymour. [Great cheering and confusion ensued; delegation standing upon seats; cries of "set down," "set down in front," "order."]

Price took the chair and insisted that the gentlemen must take their seats, and would recognize no one until order was restored.

Woodward, of Penn., now arose and transferred her 26 votes to Horatio Seymour. [Great cheering and disorder; cries of delegates all over the house, to their respective chairmen, "change our vote," "change our vote;" half a dozen States at once wanted to change their vote.] Missouri changed her 11 to Seymour. Illinois followed en masse for Seymour. [Loud cheering, indescribable confusion], and Indiana changed 13 to Seymour. Iowa came next, 8 for Seymour. Texas cast her 6 for Seymour. Here the cannon in the street began to fire a salute for the nominee as State after State came in, but the confusion and noise was so great that not a word could be distinguished of what anybody said. Seymour clearly nominated—the confusion subsiding, Alabama, Kansas, Maine and Arkansas followed successively and unanimously for Seymour. Dawson, of Pennsylvania, moved that the nomination be made unanimous, but the confusion was so great that nothing was done with it. A delegation from Minnesota frantically waving one of the State standards, attracted the attention of the chairman and cast the vote of Minnesota for Seymour. Georgia paid the last tribute to Hancock, the most knightly soldier of the war, who she had supported earnestly, but now unite in voting unanimously for Seymour.

Stuart, of Michigan, said that State came to the Convention with the single purpose to nominate a candidate who could certainly be elected. That position she occupied to-day. He then proceeded to eulogise Seymour as the greatest statesman now living, and cast the vote of Michigan for him.

A band on Fourteenth street struck up the "Battle Cry of Freedom." The cannons are still saluting.

A delegate from South Carolina said he was from a State which felt most heavily the chains of oppression from Radical rule. He said South Carolina came here, coming more for measures than men, they were satisfied with the platform adopted so unanimously, and South Carolina, with the benediction of God's blessing on the party on which rests the last hope of the country, cast her vote for Seymour.

Maryland changed to Seymour.

Tilden, of New York, rose. Great interest to hear him was manifested, and cries uttered of "Take the platform." He spoke from his place, however, and said he did not last evening believe that event which has now occurred could have happened. [His remarks here were not distinctly audible to the reporter, because of conversation in his vicinity. He was understood to say he had no expectation that Ohio would have come to the support of the distinguished citizen of New York.] In conclusion he announced the unanimous vote of New York for Horatio Seymour.

Clark, of Mississippi called for the ratification of the nomination by three cheers for Seymour, which were given with a will.

The chair announced that all the States had voted, and the result was 317 votes for Seymour. [Cheers—the chair and audience rising, waving hats, handkerchiefs, hands, etc., for several minutes. Loud and prolonged calls for Seymour, and cries of sit down in front. The chair rapped his gavel and called to order in vain for several minutes.]

Price, in the chair, announced Seymour as having received the unanimous vote of the Convention, was standard-bearer for the coming campaign.

Preston, of Kentucky, offered a resolution to proceed to nominate candidates for the Vice Presidency.

Woodward seconded the motion.

A new scene of confusion ensued on the call of States for the nomination of candidates for the Vice Presidency.

One delegate from California eulogized H. H. Haight from that State, but was understood to say the State presented no candidate.

Steel, of California, said this was a mistake, and that a majority of her delegates nominated F. P. Blair.

Bigler, of Pennsylvania, urged that the nomination of Vice Presidency was a matter of great importance, and moved a recess for consultation.

Preston, of Kentucky, made a point of order that no motion to adjourn to take a recess is in order whilst the roll of States is being called.

Woodward moved to suspend the rules in order to enable Pennsylvania to make a nomination. Lost.

The chair then put the question on a motion by Stewart, of Michigan, for a recess of one hour. The motion seemed clearly lost, but the chair announced it carried, so a recess for one hour was taken.

At 2 p.m. are reassembling, and the various State delegations are caucussing in the Hall, and there seems a general conviction that the second place must be assigned to a soldier. The names of Gen. F. P. Blair, Gen. Thos. Ewing, jr., Gen. Hancock and Gen. Morgan of Ohio were freely canvassed. In this connection, Hancock's locality as a Pennsylvanian is urged as a fatal objection to him, since New York has the Presidential nomination. Blair's friends say his name will excite more enthusiasm among the soldiers, and it is said New York will give her vote for him. There is much talk also of Morgan, Ewing and McClernand.

Price called the Convention to order at 2:30. Gov. Seymour having returned to his quarters at the St. Nicholas, the call of States was continued for the nomination of a Vice President. Illinois presented the name of John A. McClernand, a compeer of Clay and Webster; a distinguished general of the late war, whose brain conceived the capture of Vicksburg, though the credit of that achievement was given to a much inferior man. (Cheers.) Gen. McClernand rose to thank the Convention, but asked the Convention to withdraw his name, (cries of no, no,) saying he had no ambition except in relieving the country from the thraldom which now binds her. He said the soldiers would heartily accept the name of Seymour. The soldiers and sailors were not all for a sham hero, a creature of circumstances, and more than half of them would vote for the patriot, orator and statesman Seymour, and said he was in earnest in asking the withdrawal of his name—which was then done.

O'Neil, of Iowa, presented the name of Gen. A. C. Dodge, whom he eulogized.

A Kansas delegate presented the name of Gen. Ewing, Jr., of Kansas, and read a letter from the Soldiers' and Sailors' Convention, which recommended him for the second place on the ticket.

Gen. Preston, of Kentucky, said this nomination was due to the West, and he presented the name of Gen. Frank P. Blair, of Missouri. As a Southern soldier who had differed from Gen. Blair in the war, he desired to say that the soldiers of the South, extended their hands to the soldiers of the North, in token of amity and good will.

Gen. Steedman, of Louisiana, seconded the nomination of his companion in arms, Gen. F. P. Blair. He claimed that the support given by the South to Gen. Hancock, and the naming of Gen. Blair by Gen. Preston, was sufficient evidence that the soldiers of the South accepted the situation and the issues of the war, in good faith.

Anderson, of Maine, also presented the name of Ewing.

Maryland said she should sustain Blair. Mississippi, Missouri, Nebraska and Nevada also seconded Blair.

North Carolina did the same to show that she had no prejudice against a soldier who fought gallantly for his own side during the war, and also seconded Blair's nomination. Oregon followed suit.

When South Carolina was called, her chairman rose and introduced Wade Hampton to the audience, who was received with uproarious applause.

Hampton said the soldiers of the South friendly, cheerfully and cordially accepted the hand of amity extended to them, and he thought it due to the soldiers of the North that they should have the second place on the ticket, and he therefore seconded the nomination of Gen. Blair.

As he took his seat Gen. McClernand crossed the hall and took Hampton's hand, amid vociferous cheers, and also seconded the name of Blair.

The delegate from Kansas who had named Gen. Ewing, rose and said that by request of that gentleman, and by instructions of his delegation, he withdrew the name of Ewing and moved that Blair be nominated by acclamation.

Maine seconded the motion and Iowa then withdrew the name of Gen. Dodge, which left the name of Blair alone before the Convention, and great cries of "call the roll! call the roll!" which was ordered, and each State in its order voted unanimously for Mr. Blair.

A delegate from Alabama led off, saying: "As a Rebel soldier of Alabama, I take pleasure in casting her vote for a gallant Union soldier—Frank P. Blair."

Woodward, in casting the vote of Pennsylvania, pledged 20,000 majority for the ticket in that State in November.

When Tennessee was called, Nelson introduced Gen. Forrest, who cast the vote of the State for Blair, amid prolonged cheers. Gen. Forrest then thanked the Convention for the courtesy and kindness extended by its members to the soldiers of the South.

Price cast her vote for Blair, and the chair announced that a unanimous vote having been cast for Gen. F. P. Blair, he was therefore the nominee of the Convention for Vice President.

S. S. Cox then rose and moved that the nomination be ratified by the unanimous voices of both the delegates and audience, and the entire assemblage united in three cheers.

McDonald, of Indiana, moved that the chair appoint a committee of one from each State to notify the nominees of their election.

The Secretary then read a call for a meeting of the National Executive Committee at 8 o'clock to-night, for organization; and also a telegram from Lancaster, Pa., announcing that the Democrats were firing salutes for Seymour.

Kiernan, of Pennsylvania, proposed and the Convention adopted a resolution thanking the citizens of New York for their hospitality, etc.

White, of Maryland, offered a resolution of thanks to the officers of the Convention. Adopted.

Vallandigham offered a resolution sympathising cordially with the working men of the country. Adopted.

A resolution of thanks to the Tammany Society for the use of their magnificent Hall, and the Manhattan Club for its liberal hospitality. Adopted.

Also a resolution of thanks to the New York press for their impartial reports of the proceedings.

It was then announced that a grand ratification meeting would be held at Union Square to-night, under the auspices of the Tammany Society.

Kiernan, of New York, at the suggestion of many members of the various delegations, moved that the thanks of this Convention be tendered to Chief Justice Chase for the able and impartial manner in which he presided over the impeachment trial.

On the motion of Gen. McCook, of Ohio, the Convention then adjourned sine die, with repeated cheers.

CONGRESSIONAL.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, July 9.—The Secretary of State was requested to furnish the Senate with a list of the States that have ratified the Fourteenth amendment to the Tax bill on petroleum and other kindred substances, which are relieved from interest taxation. The bill then passed.

HOUSE.

Garfield, from the Military Committee, reported a bill to reduce the army to peace establishment, and declare the meaning of the several acts relative to retired officers of the army. Ordered to be printed.

Senate bill legalizing the acts of the two Tax Commissioners in Arkansas was referred to the Committee on Ways and Means.

The vote on the Alaska bill was postponed until Tuesday.

The House then went into a Committee of the Whole on the tax bill, but soon rose.

Eldridge, of Wisconsin, appeared in his seat, having safely returned from New York.

Farnsworth reported a bill from the Committee on Reconstruction, providing for an election in Virginia. It provides a constitution framed by the Convention which met in Richmond on the 3d of December, 1867, shall be submitted for ratification on the 13th, 14th and 15th of August, to voters whose names shall be registered and qualified under the reconstruction acts, and election to be held at the same time for members of Congress and members of the General Assembly and State officers—the General Assembly to meet in Richmond next September. The bill was passed.

NORTH CAROLINA.

RALEIGH, July 9.—The proceedings of the Assembly on Monday, Tuesday and yesterday, were of no general interest. A negro named O'Hara has been elected one of the clerks of the House. Bowman, of the House, introduced a bill providing for public schools and requiring separate schools for blacks and whites, which was referred.

THE manner in which the political editor of the Democrat approaches the subject of the election in Mississippi reminds us of "the slow and measured tread of a jackass towards a peck of oats."—St. Louis Republican.

CITY MATTERS.

NOTICE.

City subscribers to the APPEAL, daily or weekly, who may desire to leave the city for the summer, can have their papers sent them regularly by leaving a memorandum at the Counting-room of the APPEAL, No. 13 Jefferson street.

TO CORRESPONDENTS.

Correspondents who wish to have any attention paid to their communications must observe the following rules:
Be brief, concise and to the point, avoid the "flowers of rhetoric," and confine yourself to a plain statement of facts. Write on but one side of the paper in a clear hand, and with pen and ink, giving your words and sentences plenty of room. In all cases the real name and address of the writer must accompany the manuscript. Articles which redound to personal or individual benefit, or are of a personal nature, will only be inserted as "advertisements" or "paid cards."

CALENDAR.—July—7th Month.

PHASES OF THE MOON.

MOON.	DAY.	TIME AT MEMPHIS.
Full	4th.	2 h. 39 minutes.
Third Quarter	12th.	8 h. 40 minutes.
New	19th.	3 h. 56 minutes.
First Quarter	26th.	7 h. 51 minutes.

TENTH DAY—Friday.—Sun rises 5:04; sets 7:50.

LLOYD, CLARKE & Co. have fruit jars.

PRESIDENT FANNING will preach tonight at the Linden Street Christian Church.

IF you want butter fit to eat, or sell again, you can get it in packages from one pound to one hundred, at the Memphis Preserving House, under the Gayoso House.

THE WEATHER continues cloudy and threatening rain, with occasional sprinkles. From all accounts the rain has been general and will do incalculable good to the growing crops.

CLEANED.—The street lamps were cleaned day before yesterday—the first time in the memory of the oldest inhabitant. They needed it.

SCRIMMAGE.—Two representatives of two rival lines of public "vehicles" had a little fisticuff in front of the Worsham yesterday morning. The result was two beautiful black eyes given the aggressor in the quarrel.

ST. MARY'S SCHOOL.—Mrs. Pope will reopen this school in the same place, Poplar street, east of Orleans, the first day of September, for boarders and day scholars, as usual. jy9 1w

PERSONAL.—We had the pleasure of meeting yesterday Gen. Wheeler, one of the greatest cavalry captains that the war produced. The General looked in excellent health and spirits, and was mightily pleased at the demonstration on Jefferson street yesterday evening.

AUCTION.—To-day, at 10 a.m. and 7 p.m., will be sold a large lot of York Mills' Shirtings, slightly damaged by water; also 40 elegant Grenadine Dress Patterns, 2000 yards Calico (best brands), Ladies' Bonnets, 24 Silk Sacques, and ladies' and gentlemen's furnishing goods in great variety. Must be sold to-day and to-morrow. STRAUSS & BLUM, 213 Main street.

TO MECHANICS.—We are requested by the Clarendon (Ark.) Independent, to copy the following. During the dull times here it may prove welcome news to some of our readers:
Wanted.—One watch and clock repairer and silver smith, one tinner, one tailor, one barber, one buggy repairer, and perhaps other departments of business, will each obtain good business locations by coming to Clarendon and setting up immediately. Clarendon is a thriving town, on the left bank of White river, Arkansas, but from the fact that it has risen from its ashes and ruins since the war, all these have been slow to come. It is the seat of justice for Monroe county, as good a county as there is on the river.

COUNTY TRUSTEE.—Mr. J. J. Powers was yesterday appointed County Trustee, vice Wickersham or Wickersnapper, who was not allowed to assume the duties of the office, because he failed to give a sufficient bond. Mr. Powers will have to give this bond, and we know he can do so; for whatever may be his political proclivities, he has the confidence of the community in which he lives, as a man of integrity and honesty, and those who know him believe that he will discharge his duties to the people faithfully and honorably.

PANDEAN PIPES.—We have been startled once or twice lately by hearing what appeared a juvenile calliope directly under our windows, but thought that it was a mere delusion in acoustics, a sort of steam ventriloquism which made the "tooting horns" of the steamboats appear nearer to us at certain times than at others. The mystery was explained yesterday to our satisfaction, by seeing a big black darkey making the sound by blowing into a series of canes of unequal length and sizes, arranged like the Pandean pipes of old. The imitation of a calliope is perfect, and would, at a little distance, deceive the most practised ear.

MEETING OF COUNTY COMMISSIONERS YESTERDAY.

Election of Trustee--Vice Wickersham.

J. J. Powers, Esq., Chosen.

A meeting of the County Commissioners was held yesterday. A certified copy of the order of the Circuit Court declaring the office of County Trustee to be vacant, having been read to the Board of County Commissioners, on motion of Commissioner Hack, the Board proceeded to fill the vacancy, for which office the following citizens were placed in nomination as candidates by the Board: L. M. Wolcott, A. Woodward, F. M. Cash, J. J. Powers, A. L. Cummins, P. H. Heinrich, Martin Kelly, John S. Toof, J. B. Sharpe, H. E. Garth, F. L. Warner, S. W. Wilkins, N. Coronna, Sidney Cook and Wm. R. Moore, Esqs.

There were sixteen ballots taken before an election was had. During the several ballotings, Messrs. Moore, Cook, Coronna and Wilkins, each received one vote. Heinrich, Cummings and Warner, each two votes. Toof and Cash, each three votes. Kelly, eleven votes. Woodward, eighteen votes, and J. J. Powers, Esq., thirty votes, and on the sixteenth ballot four votes; who was then declared to be duly elected County Trustee, and his bond fixed at $200,000.

Before the balloting began, Mr. Wickersham, by his attorney, Channing Richards, Esq., gave notice to the Board that he was ready to perform the duties of the office, and denied the authority of the Circuit Court to declare the office vacant.

Gen. M. T. Williamson, Dr. W. H. White and John Park, Esq., were appointed by the County Commissioners to examine the assessment just made for State and county purposes.

The Commissioners of the county have resolved to call the attention of the Governor to the fact that they desire to increase the bonds to be issued to $400,000, and reduce the interest to six per cent., and extend the time for redemption to twenty years; action, if possible, to be had at the called session. Judge Lewis and Mr. Merriman are authorized to attend to the matter.

D. H. McFall was elected Constable of the Fourteenth Civil District yesterday, by the County Commissioners, on the second ballot—his bond fixed at $4500.

A motion was made yesterday, by Mr. Merriman, in the County Commission, to elect the Bulletin county printer, with a view to dividing the patronage among the Republican papers.
Board adjourned.

AN ELEGANT ROW.

Beaumont, Burditt, McLefresh and Waldran the Participants.

The Judge Worsted.

There has been, as the public is aware, a most elegant and refreshing row going on for some time past between the two branches of the fraternal Radical party in our midst. "How these Christians love one another!" was a remark made by an early German savage when the doctrine of brotherly love was first introduced into Allemania. "How these Christians hate one another!" was the remark made by the same German a few years afterward. Just so with the Radicals among us; a year or two ago, when they were few in number, and lean and scanty carpet-bags, and just ingratiating themselves into the favor of the emancipated colored voters, they were a band of brethren—they hung together in all things, and were a unit wherever scalawag interest was to be subserved. By and by, however, the first booty came, and there was a little squabble about dividing it; then as the spolia opima crowded upon them, the little breach grew to be a big one, and those who in a normal condition were "thick as thieves," soon grew to be bitter enemies and to hate one another right cordially. Those who failed in getting office hated those who succeeded; and those who got an inferior or subordinate position, were "everlastingly down on" those who were fortunate to get into something 'fat.'

The reader who has ever seen buzzards fighting over a carcass, or dogs snapping and snarling at each other over a bone, may form some faint idea of the spirit which animated (and still animates) these truly loyal patriots.

We have hitherto taken no part in their quarrels, believing that the Conservative newspaper that interfered in any way, shape or form, to stop the quarrel, was doing an injury to the cause of decency, and that the sooner that these vampyres that were sucking the life-blood of the body politic, consumed and destroyed one another, the better it would be for the White people of Memphis and the South. We have, where it was possible, "sicked them on," and hounded them into fights that they perhaps would not otherwise have gone into, and now it affords us no ordinary amount of gratification to be able to chronicle the following delightful little split among themselves:

Judge Waldran, as all are aware, took occasion to "go for" the police commissioners in his charge to the grand jury some time since, and accordingly the police commissioners were jerked up before that august body, and some of their affairs looked into. Our readers have been kept posted as to the various phases which the affair assumed—the last of which was an injunction restraining Waldran from acting in his official capacity. The Judge in an official document counter-charged that one of his opponents was a man who had been on this grand jury, and had been discharged therefrom on account of having been "tampered with" by Col. Beaumont.

The only party relieved from jury duty in the police case by Judge Waldran was a Mr. McLefresh, who, as soon as he heard Mr. Waldran's accusations, went to him to inquire into them. He found him on the bench holding court, and approaching him, called him in his own courtroom, while he was sitting as judge, an infamous liar, which insult Waldran did not resent.

Mr. McLefresh then sought out Col. Beaumont and detailed the affair to him, and at 2 o'clock p.m. yesterday, they (Beaumont and McLefresh) again went down to see the Judge. They found him, according to their own account, in a bar room pretty drunk, and gave him "considerable of a cursing," which he also took without resenting.

The gentlemen are out in a card this morning, which we recommend to our readers as something racy. Read it, by all means.

THE GREAT RALLY.

Magnificent and Imposing Spectacle.

The People Turn Out in Mass.

A Most Heart-Cheering Demonstration.

Never since the exciting times of '60 and '61, have so many people gathered together on the streets as an exponent of a great political party and principle, as gathered together last night at the ratification rally of the Democracy of Memphis. Fully five thousand persons were on the streets, and though every one seemed thoroughly enthused, the crowd was perfectly orderly.

We have not time to describe minutely, or to give even an outline of the evening's programme, but will give the affair to-morrow. Speeches were made by several prominent gentlemen from the various newspaper offices. A vast amount of fireworks was consumed. All the Conservative newspaper offices were illuminated in a most brilliant manner, and the Jefferson street editorial rooms were crowded with friends and well-wishers. The APPEAL rooms were crammed with the beauty of Memphis, who, we have reason to believe, felt all the enthusiasm of the sterner sex, and with a determination to use more than their usual influence in support of the Democratic nominees.

A Card.

MEMPHIS, July, 9, 1868.

Geo. W. Waldran stated to his Grand Jury, in open court this morning, that he had discharged one of their number for the reason that the Chief of Police had been tampering with him, promising to appoint his brother on the Police force if he would prevent any indictment being found against the Police Commissioners. The Juryman is Mr. F. M. McLefresh, and the brother's name is W. L. McLefresh.

The statement made with such gravity is without the slightest foundation, there never having been a word passed between the parties, or any communication, direct or indirect, upon the subject, and the Chief of Police did not know until the charge was made that F. M. McLefresh had a brother.

Waldran having been called upon for his authority, and refused to give it, we charge that the whole story was gotten up by him to rid the Grand Jury of a man who would not be used as the tool of the perjured scoundrel and liar who now presides over the Municipal Court.

Saturday will be motion day.

H. S. Lee has received the appointment of Judge of Law Court, vice Judge James Q. Pierce, resigned.

MUNICIPAL COURT—Geo. W. Waldran, Judge.—The cases set for trial on yesterday against S. B. Beaumont and A. P. Burditt were continued over to next Saturday.

Judge Waldran addressed the Grand Jury on yesterday, and referred to the charges brought against the Court by Messrs. Beaumont and Burditt, Police Commissioners. He was charged with fixing up the Grand Jury with a view to the prosecution of these parties. He held in his hand the original list made out by the Prosecuting Attorney Hudson, from which list the Grand Jury were summoned. Many of the members of the Grand Jury he did not know until they were sworn in as jurors. Some of the jurors desired to know why one of their body was peremptorily discharged some time since. It was because he had been tampered with by Mr. Beaumont, who promised to give his brother a position or situation if he (the Grand Juror) would use his influence to ignore those bills of indictment. This came to the knowledge of the Court, upon the statement of two respectable citizens and office-holders, and the Court, not desiring to prejudice this investigation, discharged said Grand Juror, but did not give his reasons for so doing to the Grand Jury. After many other pertinent remarks to the Grand Jury, Court adjourned over to this morning at the usual hour.

CRIMINAL COURT—Wm. Hunter, Judge.—The trial of the case of the State of Tennessee vs. Sam Moody, R. G. Bedford, Henderson Ford and Henry Jones, (negroes,) indictment for murder, did not close last evening. The State will present further testimony to-day. The trial will continue for several days.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Yesterday was a dull day upon the levee Only one boat in port, and she was not thronged with either people or freight.

The Arkansas packet line, for the first time since its organization, failed to make time yesterday. Low water is the chief cause.

"The fact is, the tonnage on the Western waters is entirely too large for the business. This is what creates the competition and cuts down the prices."

We take the above from a Pittsburg paper. What a wonderful chap that reporter must be, to make such a discovery.

The J. H. Groesbeck has gone into summer quarters at Cincinnati.

The season of low water is approaching fast. The huge hulks which have monopolized the river will soon give way to smaller crafts.

The Liberty, Capt. Rice, will leave tomorrow for White river, making all way landings. She carries the United States mail, and connects at Devall's Bluff with the Little Rock train. Milt, Harry and Charley Sharp are clerks.

The Belle St. Louis leaves on Saturday for Cairo and St. Louis.

The Frank Pargoud, Capt. Tobin, leaves to-day at 5 p.m. for New Orleans and way points. Geo. Williams is chief clerk.

The Luminary, Capt. Luker, with Lee Finney in the office, passes up to-day for Cairo and St. Louis at 5 p.m.

The Julia, Capt. Lockhart, is the regular United States mail packet for Vicksburg and the bends, leaving on Saturday at 5 p.m.

The ferry boat Peosta was sold at Mound City yesterday. The boat was purchased by Mrs. Pollie Cheek, for the sum of $7,000 25. The ferry privilege was sold also, to the same purchaser, for the sum of $430 per month.

The Norman has laid up at Louisville.

The W. F. Curtis enters the Louisville and Cairo trade as a low water packet.

Both the steamers used last year by the Government to improve the navigation of the Mississippi river by the use of Long's scrapers, are now undergoing repairs at La Crosse. They will be ready to operate as soon as Congress appropriates money to defray expenses.

A gentleman residing on the Hudson river is endeavoring to bring out a light river boat on a new principle connected with displacement of water and resistance. The inventor claims not only that she will be useful for carrying mails and a few passengers, but of unparalleled swiftness.

The old steamer Vigo is being torn to pieces at New Albany, and her machinery is to go into the new boat being built for Capt. Norton by Hill, Hewett & Co. The fastest time, to the best of our knowledge, ever made by a steamboat, was the late run of the Daniel Drew, from Yonkers to New York, a distance of fourteen and a half miles, in thirty-four minutes and forty-five seconds, or at a rate of over twenty-five miles per hour.

In San Francisco the Chinese porters, in unloading and loading steamers, carry their burdens on the ends of a bamboo pole balanced over the shoulder—one man easily carrying two packages of the weight of a barrel of flour each. But when there is only one package, two men are required, one at each end of the pole, with the weight hung in the middle.

Hopkins did pay the sum of $400 00.

And whereas, in order to secure and save harmless the said John Overton, Thomas Bibb, R. C. Brinkley and A. F. Hopkins, the owners respectively of the aforesaid accommodation bills, and to secure also the said A. and J. Dennison & Co. on the notes aforesaid, the said Arthur M. Hopkins did execute an indenture of Trust, dated the 8th day of February, 1861, by and to which he conveyed, with the liberties to recht the premises situate in the county of Cook and State of Illinois, known and described as follows: "A certain piece or parcel of land lying and being near the city of Chicago, in the State of Illinois, and consisting of about ten acres, which was conveyed in fee simple by James W. Fryor and Katherine M. Fryor, his wife, by their deed dated July 3, 1856, upon Trust; that in case a majority of the beneficiaries in said indenture of Trust mentioned should direct a sale of said premises, then the said Charles Kortrecht was thereby authorized and instructed to sell said premises, at public auction, in the city of Memphis, State of Tennessee, after giving sixty days notice in one or more of the newspapers published in said city of Memphis, of the time and place of said sale, said sale to be made for cash or credit, as a majority of the beneficiaries in said indenture of Trust named might direct, and out of the proceeds of said sale to pay said accommodation bills and the note aforesaid, and to pay the remainder, if any, over to said Arthur M. Hopkins, as will appear by reference to said Trust Deed, recorded in the Recorder's office of Cook county, Illinois, in Book 236 of Deeds, page 92.

And whereas, default has been made in the payment of said accommodation bills and note, and application has been made and a sale of said premises, for cash, has been directed by a majority of said beneficiaries in said indenture of Trust named, for the purpose of carrying out said Trust; now, therefore, public notice is hereby given, that I will, on

MEMPHIS APPEAL.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY PPEAL,
MEMPHIS, July 9, 1868.

The political excitement to-day drew all attention away from trade and in money circles there was, we may say, nothing done whatever.

The nominations at New York, which were known early in the afternoon, gave universal satisfaction to Conservatives, and we may look for a more healthy state of affairs during the balance of the season. Heavy bets were offered on the result of the November election.

Currency is easy, with a light demand for accommodation, while balances are daily increasing. Rates are the same as on yesterday.

Gold opened in New York to-day at 140⅛ and closed at 140⅛. We quote at 139 to 140c buying. Selling at 140 to 141c.

The following are the New York quotations on Governments: Coupons, '81, 13⅛; do '62, 13½; do '64, 10½; do '65, 11½; do new issue, 8½; do '67, 8½; 10-40s, 7½; 7-30s, 2d and 3d, 8½; Government bonds, steady. Old Tennessees, 70¾; new do, 69¾.

We have no transactions to report in bonds or stocks. Quotations are nominally the same as at our last. $4000 City Bonds were offered at 57c, but 56c was the best bid received. Memphis and Charleston Railroad stock 56c. Mississippi and Tennessee, 1st mortgage 50c; 2d do, 33 to 35c. Memphis & Ohio Railroad stock, 10c; 1st mortgage 10s, 30c; 2d do 6s, 20c. Mississippi Central, 1st mortgage, 58c; 2d do, 40 to 42c. Memphis and Little Rock bonds are entirely nominal, there being no demand.

City Scrip is dull. Buying at 75c. Selling at 78 to 80c.

County Warrants are quiet. Buying nominally at 60c. Selling at 63 to 65c.

Police Scrip weak at 75c buying. Selling at 80c.

A heavy railroad contract has been entered into between a citizen of San Francisco and the Peruvian government to build a railroad from Islay to Arequipa, a distance of one hundred miles, for the large sum of $12,000,000, or $120,000 per mile. The contract binds him to finish the road in three years, with a penalty of $20,000 for every month exceeding that period, and a bonus of the same amount for every month under three years. The elevation he is compelled to cross in that distance of one hundred miles is seven thousand feet above the sea, and the route is mountainous.

The Liverpool cotton market was quiet at the opening to-day. Uplands, 11¼ to 11¼d. Orleans, 11¼ to 11½d. At noon the market was easier, and at the close was unchanged. Sales 12,000.

The New York market was quiet until the close, when it became dull, with prices tending downward.

Our market was inactive. Holders were disposed to make concessions, but we could learn of no sales outside of a few bales which were taken for account of Western spinners.

MISCELLANEOUS.

THE NATIONAL

TELEGRAPH

COMPANY.

A new enterprise, to be known as the National Telegraph Company, has been organized with valuable franchises conferred by a recent act of Congress for the purpose of establishing Trunk Lines of Telegraph on all the principal railroads and mail routes in the United States. The stock is to be issued upon the same principle as that of the Merchant's Union Express Company, which recently commenced operations. The design is to interest the entire business community in the enterprise. This is done, not so much to dispose of the stock as it is to secure the business of the country through which the lines pass.

The Capital is to be

$10,000,000,

In 100,000 Shares, of the par value of

$100 PER SHARE,

But the actual amount to be paid in cash is

$35 Per Share,

And this amount is to be paid as follows: One per cent. of the par at the time of subscribing, and no more, until the entire capital has been subscribed, and then on calls to be made by the Board of Directors; instalments not to exceed five per cent. per month. When thirty-five per cent. of the par value of the shares has been paid, certificates of stock will be issued This will give the company a paid up

CASH CAPITAL OF $3,500,000,

Which will be sufficient to duplicate lines to all or nearly all the paying points reached by the present monopoly.

The present Telegraph Companies of the country have been consolidated into one huge monopoly, and are now earning over SIX MILLIONS OF DOLLARS per year, or over one hundred per cent. on the actual cost of their lines, their present capital having been watered over ONE THOUSAND per cent.

THE NATIONAL TELEGRAPH COMPANY have a recognition from the United States Government of the importance of their enterprise, with a grant of the most valuable franchises ever conferred upon a telegraph company. No competing line has ever had the right now granted by Congress to this company to construct and operate lines over every RAILROAD and MAIL ROUTE in the United States. The position of this company differs from that of any company ever before organized. The question of the RIGHT OF WAY IS FOREVER SETTLED.

The stockholders of this company cannot be sold out or TRANSFERRED to any other company. The charter under which this company has been organized, prohibits any transfer of the franchises granted.

CALLS---HOW TO BE MADE.

One per cent. of the Stock will be required on subscribing, and subsequent calls, not to exceed five per cent. per month, will be made by the Board of Directors, from time to time, as may be necessary, to supply funds to construct and equip the lines; but no call will be made before the one per cent. is paid, until the ENTIRE CAPITAL STOCK shall have been subscribed.

ACTUAL CAPITAL REQUIRED

The Company confidently believe that thirty-five per cent. of the Capital Stock will construct and fully equip

25,000 MILES OF WIRE,

Which will connect all the commercial centers and important places in the United States This opinion rests upon the most reliable estimates and responsible offers to construct and equip the lines.

The National Telegraph Company is organized under the Laws of the State of New York and franchises conferred by an act of Congress, approved July 24, 1866.
